Pets at Work

Many people love to spend time with their pets, but in the past, few people thought of taking their pets to work. However, in 1999, an organization called Pet Sitters International started an event called “Take Your Dog to Work Day.” By June 2008, over 10,000 companies in the United States, Canada, and Britain were taking part in the event. In addition, a growing number of companies have started to let their employees bring pets on other days of the year, too.

Of course, having pets in the workplace can lead to (36). For example, having pets in factories might be dangerous because they could cause accidents. Noisy animals, such as some birds, could make it hard for people in offices to concentrate on their work. Moreover, some people have allergies or are frightened of certain animals. Because of these possible difficulties, companies usually try to get the agreement of all their employees before they (37) their rules.

Supporters of pet-friendly policies point out that there are several advantages to having pets in the workplace. John S. Long III, from Pet Sitters International, says that people feel less stressed and work better with pets around. Pets can also improve (38) in an office. This is because people are more likely to talk to co-workers who have a dog or other pet with them. In addition, pet owners can stay at work longer when they need to because they do not have to go home to take care of their pets. In the future, even more companies may open their doors to pets.

 Subject: Moving to Grandville!

Dear Pete,

How are you? It was great to see you and your wife at Chris and Maria's wedding in October. That was a wonderful day, wasn't it? And it was fun meeting up with our old friends from college. I can't believe it's been 15 years since we were all studying together in San Francisco.

You said at the wedding that you were planning to go to Peru for a vacation with your family in December. Did you have a good time? If you have some photos, I'd love to see them. My two children aren't old enough for that kind of trip. This Christmas, we went skiing in the mountains a few hours from home.

Anyway, I have some news. My husband has found a new job at a publishing company in Grandville. We're going to move in the spring, so you and I will be neighbors! You said before that Grandville is a nice town to live in. Are there any areas of the town that you recommend in particular? We will also want to find a dance school so that our daughter can continue her ballet lessons. Please tell me if you know a good one.

Best wishes,
 Eva

The Edinburgh Festival Fringe

Edinburgh, the capital city of Scotland, is famous for its festivals. The city's largest festival, called the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, is held in August every year. It is the largest arts festival in the world. There are many types of performances at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, such as comedy, theater, music, and dance. In 2008, there were over 2,000 different shows.

The Edinburgh Festival Fringe began in the summer of 1947, when the city was holding an arts festival called the Edinburgh International Festival. The organizers of the Edinburgh International Festival had invited artists to perform at some of the city's theaters. However, some groups of artists who had not been invited also went to the city, and they performed their shows in other theaters. The same thing happened at the International Festival in the following years, and these shows at other theaters became known as the Fringe.

One unusual thing about the Fringe is that performers can do any type of show they choose. They just have to pay some money to the Fringe's organizers. As a result, there are always a lot of strange and interesting shows at the Fringe. However, some people say that the quality of many of the shows is poor.

Although performers at the Fringe sell tickets for their shows, many of them lose money. This is because they must pay for advertising and a place to perform, as well as give money to the organizers. But if their shows are popular, they can become better known and get the chance to do their shows in other places. Many actors and comedians who have performed at the Fringe have later appeared in movies and on television. This is one reason why it seems likely that the Fringe will continue to grow.

(42) What happens in Edinburgh every August?

- 1 A concert is given by 2,000 people.
- 2 Scotland's largest food festival is held.
- 3 Comedians, musicians, and dancers perform.
- 4 People come to see the city's famous castle.

(43) What happened at the Edinburgh International Festival in 1947?

- 1 Some people who were not invited came to do shows.
- 2 Many people asked to change the name of the festival.
- 3 All of the festival's tickets sold out on the first day.
- 4 People started to visit shows in other cities.

(44) What do some people say about the Fringe?

- 1 Many performers do the same show every year.
- 2 Many of the shows are not very good.
- 3 It costs a lot of money to see.
- 4 It is becoming less popular every year.

(45) Many performers want to join the Fringe because

- 1 it is a way to meet other performers.
- 2 it is sometimes shown on television.
- 3 it is free to perform there.
- 4 it is a chance to become famous.
